- The goal is to increase the efficiency of cooperation between the University and business entities in Bosnia and Herzegovina, it means to increase the competitiveness of enterprises and adapt to changes in the environment. From academic year 2014/2015 to 2019/20, a total of 12 scientific conferences consultations with international participation were held.

Erasmus+

International cooperation at the International University Travnik has been actively pursued since 2016. International cooperation is promoted through study visits, joint projects, exchanges, etc., with regional and international higher education institutions.

Mobility has been identified as a very important factor in the modern approach to education, and International University Travnik, in line with the global trend in this regard, seeks to establish programs that, through temporary residency at other higher education institutions, will enable students to acquire the knowledge and skills needed to compete in the labor market.

The IUT has signed over 100 international cooperation agreements with higher education internationally institutions. Through various activities such as organizing joint study programs, conferences, lectures by visiting professors, projects, a total of 50 agreements were implemented from 2016 to 2020.

Quality of education and teaching

The teaching process also includes fieldwork and individual counseling for students. At International University Travnik direct field forms of practical teaching at all faculties are regularly organized for students so they can test the practical knowledge they have acquired during the course through hands-on teaching in real time and conditions.
